To Whom It May Concern;

My name is Sherrie Lucero, and I am a psychiatric mental health nurse practitioner. I currently work in outpatient psychiatry. I see patients of all ages across the lifespan. I treat a number of adults who suffer from chronic depression. I have assessed many patients who have taken different antidepressants and have only had a partial response to their depression. In these cases, I treat the patient using Rexulti in addition to their current antidepressant. I have seen a remarkable difference and improvement in each case with their depression. I would like to share some of the personal responses from my patients during their assessments after using Rexulti.

“I had no reason to be depressed. I would cry out of nowhere. I feel happy for the first time in decades” - 58-year-old male

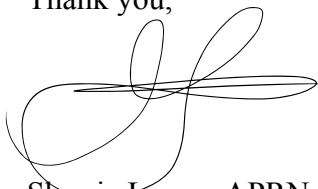

“I am not always crying, and I don’t feel so emotional. I feel happier” - 60-year-old female

“I feel normal again. I feel human again” - 42-year-old female

“I have been depressed all my life and now I don’t feel depressed. I have been making plans with friends and family” - 63-year-old female

Again, I have seen significant improvement in my patient’s depression with the use of Rexulti. What better way to communicate the benefits than with actual patient testimonials? Each of the patients has suffered a long period of time with only a partial response to their antidepressants. Adding Rexulti to their current medication regimen has definitely proven to minimize depression symptoms.

Thank you,

Sherrie Lucero APRN, PMHNP-BC
