

BACKGROUND: Too many children and families in Nevada struggle to access the behavioral health care and support they need. To address this issue, Nevada Medicaid is undergoing major reforms, including investing over $200 million this biennium in the state’s mental health system in services and supports for children and their families.

THE CALL FOR ACTION: Join Nevada Medicaid, health care providers, state, county and community leaders across the state on an important journey to improve care for over 20,000 Nevada children. The goal of this effort is to improve access to community-based behavioral health care for children, statewide. This includes community services available to children through community clinics, in the home, and at school, and new supports for families with children with behavioral health needs. To join this work, ask questions, or learn more, email ChildrensBH@dchcfp.nv.gov.

NEW & IMPROVED SERVICES: New and improved services for eligible children covered by Medicaid:

- Therapies for children & families
- Parenting support for caregivers
- Life skills training for youth
- Peer supports, connecting children and families with community members similar experiences and needs
- Respite care to give caregivers short-term relief
- Transportation to medical appointments
- Psychiatric care & medication management
- Mobile crisis services, whenever and wherever needed

HOW WE DO IT: It is hard for families to navigate health care, education, family services, and social services. We are developing a “wraparound” program to help children and families get the support they need to thrive in their communities. Each eligible family will have a dedicated care coordinator who will work with a team to create a care plan that supports the behavioral health needs of the child. The care team could include the child’s doctors, therapists, teachers, Juvenile Justice officials, and foster care providers, among others.

LET’S GET STARTED: Nevada Medicaid is working to get many of these services and supports up and going early next year, while working to establish a specialized health plan designed to support eligible children and families in 2027. Join the email list at the QR Code below to stay informed. All these efforts require stakeholder and community input and involvement, so please join us and provide your feedback.

Questions? Input? Want to join community meetings? Email ChildrensBH@dchcfp.nv.gov.

Sign up for email notifications